What is the UPSC CSE Exam and How to Become an IAS?

The UPSC Civil Services Exam (CSE) is one of the most competitive and challenging exams in India, offering aspirants the opportunity to serve the nation in prestigious roles like Indian Administrative Service (IAS), Indian Police Service (IPS), and Indian Foreign Service (IFS), among others. The exam is conducted in three stages, each designed to test different aspects of an aspirantâ??s knowledge, aptitude, and personality.

Prelims: The preliminary exam is an objective-type test consisting of two papers: General Studies (GS) and the Civil Services Aptitude Test (CSAT). The GS paper assesses a candidateâ??s awareness of current events, history, geography, polity, economics, and science, while CSAT evaluates analytical, logical, and comprehension skills. This stage acts as a screening test to qualify for the next level.

Mains: The second stage is the mains examination, which includes nine descriptive papers, out of which seven are counted for merit. These papers cover General Studies (GS), optional subjects chosen by the candidate, essay writing, and language papers. The mains stage is designed to test a candidateâ??s in-depth understanding of various subjects, analytical abilities, and clarity of expression.

Interview: The final stage is the personality test or interview, conducted by a panel of experts. This stage evaluates the candidateâ??s communication skills, confidence, decision-making abilities, and overall suitability for a career in public service. The focus is not just on knowledge but on the candidateâ??s personality and approach to solving real-world problems.
