What is the UPSC CSE Exam and How to Become an IAS?

The UPSC Civil Services Examination (CSE) is one of India's toughest exams. Conducted annually by the Union Public Service Commission, it selects candidates for prestigious services like IAS, IPS, and IFS. To become an IAS officer, one needs to clear three stages:

1. Prelims: This stage consists of objective-type questions covering General Studies and CSAT, both worth 200 marks each.
2. Mains: It includes nine descriptive papers testing knowledge, analysis, and writing skills, with seven papers contributing to the final score of 1750 marks.
3. Interview: A personality test carrying 275 marks, evaluating communication and decision-making skills.

Indore has been a cradle for numerous successful civil servants. SHRI RAM IAS has contributed immensely by providing quality education, structured strategies, and personalized mentoring.

Pattern and Stages of IAS Exam

Understanding the exam pattern is essential:

Prelims

- Papers: Two (General Studies and CSAT)
- Marks: 200 each
- Nature: Qualifying, used for shortlisting candidates for the Mains.

Mains

- Papers: Nine (seven evaluated, two qualifying)
- Marks: 1750
- Nature: Analytical and descriptive to assess candidates' intellectual depth.

Interview

- Marks: 275
- Purpose: Assesses personality traits like leadership, confidence, and clarity.

The total marks (2025) decide the final rank. Each stage demands focused preparation, and expert coaching can guide aspirants through this challenging journey.
